Cautionary Statement Regarding Forward-Looking Statements

This website contains forward-looking statements or forward-looking information within the meaning of applicable securities legislation (hereinafter collectively referred to as “forward-looking statements”) concerning the plans of the Company for its properties, operations and other matters. These statements relate to analyses and other information that are based on forecasts of future results, estimates of amounts not yet determinable and assumptions of management.

Any statements that express or involve discussions with respect to predictions, expectations, beliefs, plans, projections, objectives, assumptions or future events or performance (often, but not always, using words or phrases including but not limited to “expects”, “anticipates”, “budgets”, “plans”, “estimates”, “believes”, “hopes” or “intends”, or stating that certain actions, events or results “may”, “could”, “would”, “might” or “will” be taken, occur or be achieved) are not statements of historical fact and may be forward-looking statements.

Forward-looking statements contained in this website include statements with respect to:

- expectations regarding the potential mineralization and geological merits of any of the Company’s properties or projects;
- the Company’s goals regarding raising capital and conducting further exploration and development of its current projects;
- the Company’s proposed plans for drilling and other exploration and development work on its projects;
- expectations regarding the continuity of mineral deposits, including in relation to adjacent or other properties that are in the vicinity or same region as the Company’s projects;
- expectations regarding any environmental issues that may affect planned or future exploration programs;
- statements with respect to the future price of gold, copper or other metals or minerals;
- timing and completion of geological studies and reports;
- receipt and timing of permitting and other third party approvals; and.
- governmental regulation of mineral exploration and development operations in the jurisdictions in which the Company’s projects are located.

Forward-looking statements are subject to a variety of risks and uncertainties, which could cause actual events or results to differ materially from those reflected in the forward-looking statements, including, but not limited to:

- risks and uncertainties relating to the interpretation of drill results and other exploration data, and the geology, grade and continuity of mineral deposits;

- the possibility that future exploration results will not be consistent with the Company's expectations;
- risks related to the ability to obtain financing needed to fund the exploration and development plans of the Company;
- market conditions and volatility and global economic conditions;
- risks related to the inherent uncertainty of exploration and development cost estimates and the potential for unexpected costs and expenses;
- risks related to gold, copper, base metal and other commodity price fluctuations;
- risks related to the availability of suitable drilling and other exploration equipment and personnel;
- risks related to metallurgical characteristics of any mineralization contained within the Company's properties are yet to be fully determined, and could be a significant risk factor;
- changes in project parameters as plans continue to be refined;
- risks related to disagreements with partners, if any, on how to conduct exploration activities, inability of partners to meet their obligations, and disputes or litigation between partners;
- mining and development risks, including risks related to accidents, equipment breakdowns, labour disputes or other unanticipated difficulties with or interruptions in the exploration and development process;
- the potential for delays in exploration or development activities;
- the potential for delays in completion of geological reports, or that the contents of geological reports will not be consistent with the Company's expectations;
- risks related to environmental regulation and liability;
- country or government risk;
- risks associated with failure to maintain community and any applicable indigenous group acceptance, agreements, and permissions (generally referred to as "social licence");

- competition and loss of key management and personnel;
- insurance and tax risks; and
- general risks and uncertainties related to the Company's prospects, properties and business strategy.

Some of the important risks and uncertainties that could affect forward-looking statements are also described in the Company's continuous disclosure filings made with Canadian securities regulatory authorities, including in its Management's Discussion and Analysis ("MD&A"), which are available at the SEDAR website. Should one or more of these risks and uncertainties materialize, or should underlying assumptions prove incorrect, actual results may vary materially from those described in forward-looking statements. Forward-looking statements are made based on management's beliefs, estimates and opinions on the date the statements are made and the Company undertakes no obligation to update forward-looking statements if these beliefs, estimates and opinions or other circumstances should change, other than as required by applicable laws. Investors are therefore cautioned against placing undue reliance on forward-looking statements.

Additional risks and uncertainties not currently known to the Company, or that the Company currently deems to be immaterial, may also materially and adversely affect the Company's business and prospects. Please see the Company's publicly filed documents on SEDAR for current information including the Company's financial statements and MD&A which includes important discussions of associated financial and other risks.

Cautionary Note to U.S. Investors

This website and any other social media utilized by the Company do not constitute an offer to sell or a solicitation of an offer to buy securities in the United States. The securities of the Company have not been registered under the United States Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "U.S. Securities Act"), or any state securities laws and may not be offered or sold within the United States or to U.S. Persons unless registered under the U.S. Securities Act and applicable state securities laws or an exemption from such registration is available.

The United States Securities and Exchange Commission (the "SEC") limits disclosure for U.S. reporting purposes to mineral deposits that a company can economically and legally extract or produce. We use certain terms on this website, such as “reserves,” “resources,” “geologic resources,” “proven,” “provable,” “measured,” “indicated,” or “inferred,” which may not be consistent with the reserve definitions established by the SEC. U.S. investors are advised that terms “measured mineral resource”, “indicated mineral resource” and “inferred mineral resource” are recognized and required by Canadian Securities regulations. U.S. investors should not assume that all or any part of mineral deposits in these categories will ever be converted into mineral reserves and that as compared with measured and indicated mineral resources, inferred mineral resources have a greater amount of uncertainty as to their existence, and great uncertainty as to their economic feasibility. It should not be assumed that any part of an inferred mineral resource will ever be upgraded to a higher category.
